FOLD MESSAGE FOLD

As we have discussed previously, Jean Evans, a professional staff member at the SSCI, is keenly interested at present in the field of Soviet "deception". By this, Evans means more sophisticated "black operations" against U.S. interests than the occasional forged documents (such as the well-known [redacted] letters), specifically, Soviet attempts to undermine U.S. re[redacted]25X1ons with the European allies and to weaken the NATO structure. Evans (and, apparently, a fair number of SSCI staffers and members) feels that sophisticated Soviet campaigns of "deception" will be stepped up, particularly now that KGB alumnus Andropov is numero uno, and the SSCI would like to know what we might be doing about this, from a CI standpoint. As a related topic, Evans would also like to know whether a study has been done to determine whether the Soviets fed us false info, [redacted] Ev[redacted]25X1 would very much like to read up on this (if there are any relevant studies) or get briefed, as far in advance of the 16 December SSCI Budget Sub-Committee hearing on CI matters (the DCI will testify) as possible.
